

Nationally Known Cartoonist Appears at Assembly Program

Burr Shafer, Creator of "J. Wesley Smith,"
Brings History to Life in Cartoon Series

Burr Shafer, nationally known cartoonist and creator of the cartoon character "J. Wesley Smith," will be featured at the assembly program this morning in the College auditorium.

History, not cartooning, has been his lifelong interest.

"The most interesting thing about history," says Mr. Shafer, "is the people in it. The most wonderful human interest stories are buried in fine print footnotes, or cautiously admitted into history books to illustrate a point. History as written in the text books makes the principal characters in it seem like dreary strawmen. They don't seem like real people."

Interest Starts Career

This interest in bringing the people in history to life started Mr. Shafer to sketching them. Eventually the character of "J. Wesley Smith" appeared. His naive, but often shrewd and penetrating observations may be found in the Saturday Review of Literature, in which "Mr. Smith" makes his regular appearance. Occasionally he appears in the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, and other publications.

History students are now likely to come across "Mr. Smith." Text book publishers have engaged Mr. Shafer to illustrate certain history text books which seem to need a bit of brightening up.

Avoided Art Classes

In high school and college, Mr. Shafer carefully avoided all art classes, because they were regarded as a little effeminate. He took business courses, became a successful business man, and took over the running of the family music store in Santa Ana, California. But as an adult who needed an evening of relaxation from the office, he took up oil painting as a hobby. He has made his hobby pay in a successful career as a cartoonist.

The first collection of Mr. Shafer's cartoon, "Through History with J. Wesley Smith," was published by Vanguard Press in 1950; "Louder and Funnier," drawn from Mr. Shafer's experiences as a public speaker, was published in 1951. The second edition of "Through History" is scheduled for publication next year.

College Audience Thrills To Superb Performance of "Harvey"

Mr. Ralph E. Fulsom Directs All-College Cast
In a Convincing Interpretation of a "Pooka"

By BOB ANDREWS

Three performances of "Harvey," the Pulitzer Prize play by Mary Chase, thrilled and delighted audiences in the College auditorium last week. Tuesday night, March 24, the play opened to the public.

Two presentations were staged Wednesday, one in the morning as the regular College assembly program and another in the afternoon for the visiting high school students of Northwest Missouri. The afternoon performance was the official opening of the district speech and drama festival.

Play Convincing Roles

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph E. Fulsom, the all-college cast brought a near professional interpretation of the famous play to the stage of the auditorium. Eddie Woltz gave a convincing performance as Elwood P. Dowd, the dipsomaniac who made friends with the great white rabbit.

No less convincing in her role was Opal Carson who portrayed confused and bewildered Veta Simmons, the sister of Dowd, who was faced with the problems of what to do about Harvey and how to get a young man interested in her daughter, Myrtle Mae.

Get Share of Laughs

Jackie Donaldson in the role of the daughter gave a scintillating portrayal of a typical boy-crazy adolescent. Bob Wilson as the hospital strong-arm, Wilson, easily got the lion's share of laughs with his combination of humorous lines and more humorous antics.

Dr. William Chumley, the psychiatrist and the director of Chumley's Rest, was played by Harley Hackett, who supplied a good interpretation of a man who could not quite forget the lure of the opposite sex even though he had a charming wife. Mrs. Chumley was played by Ruth Adams, a freshman making her debut on the College stage.

All Make Play One of Best

One of the most interesting interpretations given a role was that of Helen Twaddle as Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, the society matron who dripped furs and rounded vowels. John Lee Thompson as Judge Omar Gaffney, Frank Babb as Dr. Sanderson, Carla Hayzlett as Nurse Kelly, Jack Turner as Lofgren the cabbie, and Joyce Osburn as the maid in the Dowd home contributed good performances to make the play one of the best to be presented on the College stage.

Mr. Robert F. Gee of the speech department supplied technical assistance for the production. Stage manager was Richard Oakerson. Lighting was under the supervision of Jack Turner.

Others assisting with the production were Mary Jane Carlson, Norma Jean Duffy, Jean Lienemann, Bob Andrews, Walter Hopkins, Lynn Adams, Bernice Short, Sue Condon, John Wood, Carolyn Miller, Curt Gaffney, and Burl Walter.

Cyril Dougherty Will Edit College Yearbook Next Year

Violet Casey Is Named Tower Business Manager;
Barbara Beaver Will Repeat as Art Editor

Head Tower

CYRIL DOUGHERTY

BARBARA BEAVER

VIOLET CASEY

Cyril Dougherty, a junior social science major from Fairfax, is editor of the Tower yearbook for next year. The fact that he is an outstanding student, is shown by the A. A. U. P. award that he won last year and by the fact that he is a pledge of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity. He is also a member of the Independent Club, and is the club's candidate for the vice-presidency of the Student Senate. In high school he was active in athletics, oratory, and dramatics.

Sophomore Violet Casey, fine arts major from Creston, Iowa, has been named business manager for next year's Tower. She received experience for this position while working as assistant art editor this year. Other experience was gained in high school when she worked on the high school annual and newspaper. She is a member of the Dramatics Club and Art Club.

Barbara Beaver, sophomore fine arts major from Maryville, will fill the position of art editor. She is repeating her duties as art editor for this year. Barbara, who worked on the annual at Horace Mann where she attended high school, is active in Art Club, Sigma Phi Dolphins, and Alpha Sigma Alpha.

These students were elected by a committee composed of presidents of the sophomore class, the junior class, and the student body. Also included were the present Tower editor, Harley Hackett, the present business manager, Mildred Maxon, and Tower advisers, Mr. Howard Ringold and Dr. Frank W. Grube.

Students Vote Today To Elect Top Officers of Student Body

In today's election, the two highest offices in the student government of the campus will be filled. Three candidates for each of the positions have carried on an active campaign since their official nomination a week ago yesterday.

Candidates for the office of president of the student body are Carter Botkin, Joan Kowitz, and Stan in his campaign by the colony of Tau Kappa Epsilon. Kowitz is the candidate of the Independent Club and Ogden is the choice of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

The office of vice-president is being as hotly contested with Maxine DeShon, Bob Dillon, and Cyril Dougherty in the race for the second spot. DeShon is the representative of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Dillon is the Tau Kappa Epsilon candidate, and Dougherty is the choice of the Independent Club.

Campaigning officially began with the student body caucus, March 24, at which time the candidates were introduced to the students in the College auditorium. Many observers rated the interest in this campaign as higher than it has been for several years.

Bloodmobile Comes to Campus
For April Blood Reserve Drive

Kansas City Chapter Outlines College Program
With Cooperation of Red Cross and Armed Forces

On Thursday, April 16, the Bloodmobile will be on the campus of Northwest Missouri State College. It is being brought here by the College in cooperation with the Red Cross and the military organizations.

In a recent study it was found that the undergraduates have not been carrying their full share of the load in donating blood, although they are enthusiastic and interested in doing their part.

Recently the Kansas City Defense Blood Program, which is leading in many phases of the national program, started a campaign to set up a workable college blood program.

The campaign was started with a meeting of the local chapter blood chairmen in the Kansas City Defense Blood Center and the representatives of thirteen colleges in the Kansas City area. Mr. Lon E. Wilson, dean of men, represented NW MSC at this meeting.

Three combat men reported to the committee that for each pint of blood lost, twenty-two pints are needed to replace it. The average casualty usually takes nine pints. This report gives an idea as to how greatly the blood is needed by servicemen.

Since it is required by law that persons donating blood be twenty-one years of age, or have signed statements by their parents giving them permission to donate blood, the committee decided upon a method of getting in touch with the parents of the college students who wish to cooperate in the program. Parental permission slips are available in the office of the dean of men.

It has been estimated that twenty-five per cent of the student body should give blood each year. This would be equivalent to each college student giving one pint of blood during the four years that he is in school.

To give blood, one must weigh at least one hundred and ten pounds and be under fifty-nine years of age.

It is the hope that students on this campus will be able to provide a record number of blood donors for this cause.

Thanks To Herschel Neil

Last spring we selected Herschel Neil to serve as our Senate president for this year. We felt he had the ability and personality to efficiently fill this office. Our confidence in Herschel has certainly proved correct. Student activities have moved smoothly this year and the person responsible was Herschel.

He not only appointed the necessary committees, but worked with these committees to see that their goal was accomplished. Herschel has been a good representative of all groups on the campus, seeing that no group or groups were shown partiality, and that all requests were considered with fairness. As the presiding officer, Herschel has kept business meetings moving steadily and smoothly.

I think the student body would like to say, "Thanks, for doing a swell job" to Herschel Neil, the quiet fellow who sees that things get done. It has been a pleasure to serve on the Senate with Herschel Neil at the head.

Mr. Dieterich Goes To Chicago Sessions

Mr. H. R. Dieterich, principal of Horace Mann high school, attended the spring meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago, March 25-27.

At a meeting of administrators for laboratory high schools, March 25, discussion and consideration were given to the problem of the faculty teaching load in such schools.

Dr. Harr Is Consultant For Y.M.C.A. Conference

Dr. John L. Harr will be a consultant at the annual Y. M. C. A. Coed Conference at Atlantic, Iowa, April 6. Some 800 high school students of southern Iowa will be in attendance.

The discussion topics will be "Communism," "Racial Tolerance and Understanding," "United Nations," "Political Affairs," and "The Job of our Schools." The conference theme is "Our Part as Youth in World Living."

Strong Wind Causes No Real Damage to College

Many shingles were blown off the roofs of the Quads and the gymnasium as a result of the windstorm, Saturday, March 21.

Winds up to 70 miles per hour created havoc, tearing down trees limbs and causing trouble to power lines, telephone, and light wires. TV antennas all over town were blown over or bent and drivers on the outskirts of town reported visibility at a minimum because of the windblown dust from fields.

Music Division Will Present Audience Participation Opera

The music division of the College will present the annual spring production, "Let's Make An Opera," on May 5-6.

The presentation will be under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Whitney, vocal instructor, and Mr. Robert Gee, speech instructor. Assistant in the opera will be Mr. Donald Sandford, orchestral conductor; Anita Kurtz and Maxine DeShon, assistant music directors, for the chorus members from Horace Mann; and Miss Ruth Miller, adviser for the Horace Mann division of the opera.

From Verdi to Britten

First, a word about this type of opera, and about its composer. "Let's Make An Opera" is but four years old, having first been introduced to the United States in 1950 by an English company in New York. Its composer, Benjamin Britten, is a young contemporary, and one of the five major living composers in England today.

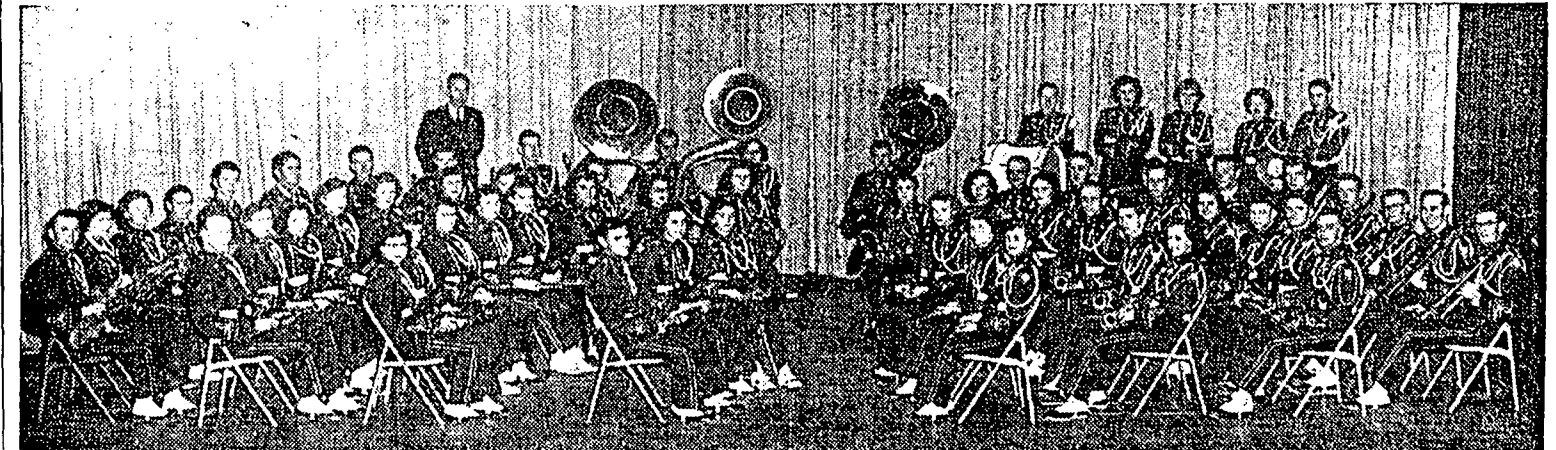

The opera originated as an experiment in having the audience actually participate as the chorus.

Since the word "opera" frightens many people who dislike "long-hair," this was designed to be thought of as a musical play, made stronger because of the music. Since it softened the opera feeling, it was produced with great success in both England and America.

Meets With Committee

President J. W. Jones attended a meeting of the House appropriations committee at Jefferson City, March 18. The request of Northwest Missouri State College for a new health and physical education building was refused.

Former Student

Appeals for Help On Okinawa

Joseph D. Driver, a warrant officer, junior grade, with the United States Army at Okinawa, and former student at the College, recently sent a letter to the Chamber of Commerce at Maryville appealing for help for a village of Okinawan people which his regiment has adopted.

This village of 900 people was adopted simply because they needed help. Now the regiment finds that the needs of the village are too great for the regiment alone. Each member of the group is writing to his home town to ask for help.

Why did the regiment adopt this village? All 900 of these people—men, women and children—have leprosy.

Their homes are grass-roofed shacks which are destroyed with every typhoon. The most a leper can earn within the colony is $1.25 a month. He can not work outside the colony and he can not build typhoon-proof homes on this earning. The building of a very small hospital for the colony had to be abandoned when the colony ran out of money for materials.

Bed sheets and blankets are a luxury. The colony has electricity only four hours a day because the people do not have enough money to buy fuel for generators. The women of the village are excellent seamstresses but they can not afford thread, let alone cloth.

Surely these people need and deserve help! If you can help in any way at all, the Maryville Chamber of Commerce will be glad to act as a clearing house for all donations.

College Concert Band Prepares For Annual Assembly, April 15

Group Under Direction of Mr. John Smay Will Present Program of Mixed Musical Selections

Again, Wednesday, April 15, 10 a. m., the auditorium of the Administration building at Northwest Missouri State College will be resounding to the music played by the College Concert Band.

Since the second semester started, the members of the band and Mr. John L. Smay, acting chairman of the division of music, who directs the band, have been working to prepare for this annual assembly and for the trip which will either follow or precede the assembly.

Places that the band will visit on this tour have not been decided upon.

Plays "The King and I"

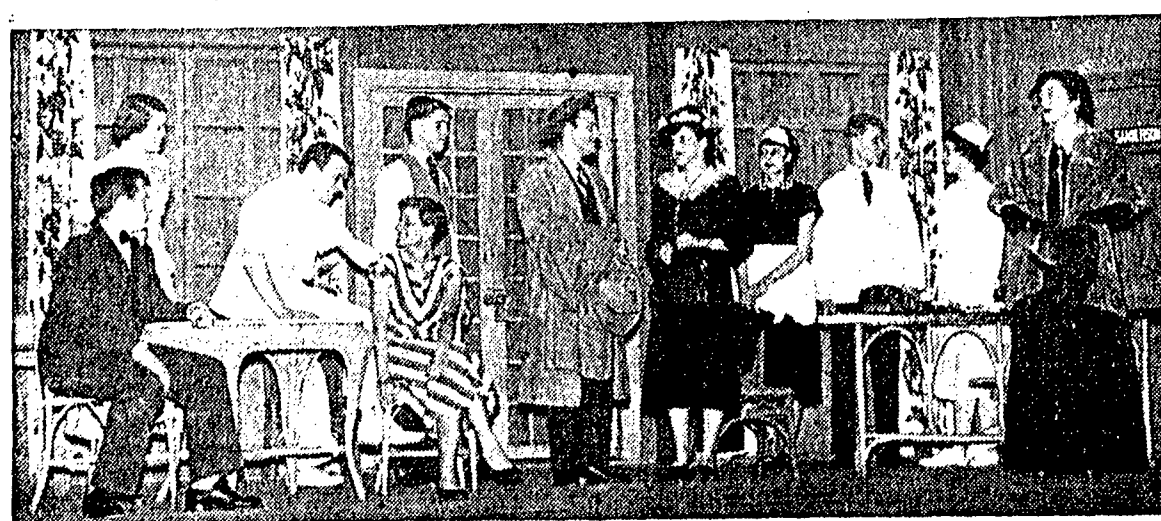

Selections from "The King and I" by Richard Rogers and "Cor-tege-Scherzo" by Musorgsky will be the major presentations of the band. Marches and several light selections comprise the remainder of the program to be given by the band.

Aside from the performance of the band, other features will be presented.

Instrumental solos will be given by two members of the band. Marilyn Brown, a sophomore music major from Fillmore, will play "Pre-lude Scherzo" by Williams, on the cornet. Gordon Robertson, also a sophomore music major from Fillmore, will play the trumpet solo, "Mendelssohn Concerto."

Student directors, who are senior music majors, will conduct the band for different numbers. They (Continued on Page Four)

Memories Crowd In

Easter—memories crowd in with the word—Excitement about Easter bunnies and nests of many-colored eggs in the garden when I was a child. Church bells on Easter morning breaking the hush that still lies over the world since Good Friday with the joyous news of Christ's resurrection and the promise of eternal life to men.

Traditional walks through the fields after the service to see the young green crop peeping through last patches of snow, to hear the first larks, to smell spring in the soft west wind, to feel the warmth of the April sun creeping into your skin and making your blood tingle and glow.

Easter 1945 and the feeling of deep gratitude for having escaped an inferno when strangers took us into their home like old friends after weeks of flight from the terrors of war. Easter in Scotland during the lambing season high up in the hills; the feeling of awe at the wonder of birth, at the perfection of each new little stumbling lamb; the feeling to be one with nature, a part of the great circle of life, only a link in an endless chain.

Your memories may be different. But you, too, have felt and feel warmth, gratitude, joy, light, and new life at Eastertime. Let us join to celebrate the triumph of life!

Today Is the Day

Today is the date to vote—the day on which you cast your ballot for the election of two to the highest offices on the campus. During the past week the candidates have apprised you of their stands on current student affairs and problems with slogans, posters, and platforms. Today you make the choice.

Who will it be? Each of the candidates for the presidency—Joan Kowitz, Stan Ogden, Carter Botkin—has much to offer. The candidates for the vice-presidency—Cyril Dougherty, Bob Dillon, Maxine DeShon—have equally as many talents.

From these students must come next year's student government officeholders, the ones who will represent the student body.

Tests Show

Physiologists and nutritionists at a prominent medical school jointly conducted studies on the effects of different breakfast habits.

Tests showed that when the subjects had had breakfast they were able to do more work and think and act more quickly; they were also calmer and steadier during the late morning hours than when they had just had a cup of coffee.

What do these facts mean to you as a student?

Interviews of the coeds on this campus revealed that 51% do not eat breakfast regularly. Is the health, as well as the work, of these students suffering because they skip breakfast?

The reasons for not eating properly are usually that people do not know enough, do not have enough, or do not care enough. Values of eating breakfast seem to be well known, and facilities are available.

Does not this situation leave only one reason for skipping breakfast? You are not concerned enough to take care of your health and improve your appearance and work by getting up fifteen minutes earlier and eating breakfast!

Board of Regents Adopts New Rules On Motor Vehicles

The Board of Regents at its last meeting, March 17, adopted the following rules and regulations concerning the operation and ownership of motor vehicles upon the campus of the college.

(1) Every student enrolled in the college, every pupil enrolled in the Horace Mann School, or employee of the college who is the owner of a motor vehicle or who operates a motor vehicle upon the college campus, shall file an application for registration of such motor vehicle with the Registrar of the college within one week after the commencement of the operation of such motor vehicle upon the campus.

(2) Upon filing such application, a certificate shall be issued to the applicant, and shall be kept on the person of such applicant at all times while the applicant is operating the motor vehicle upon the campus. Such certificate may be revoked upon the violation, by the applicant or operator of said motor vehicle, of any rule or regulation contained in this resolution and relating to the operation and parking of motor vehicles on the college campus.

(3) All employees of the college shall have the authority to make written complaints concerning the violation of any traffic rule or regulation contained in this resolution, and such complaints shall be filed with the Police Department of the City of Maryville for action against such violator.

(4) Every person operating a motor vehicle on the college campus shall drive in a careful and prudent manner, shall exercise the highest degree of care, and shall drive at a rate of speed not to exceed twenty-five (25) miles per hour.

(5) All vehicles not in motion shall be placed in recognized parking areas on the college campus and shall not be parked in any other place on the campus.

For the purpose of this resolution, recognized parking areas on the campus, shall include the following: The area south of the gymnasium lying south of College Avenue; the area along the north edge of the driveway west of the gymnasium; the area north of Horace Mann School; the area north of the Library building; the area north of the Administration building; the area north of the railroad bridge; the area along the walk on the north side of Residence Hall front lawn; the area north of the Men's Quadrangle south edge of Memorial Drive; the area along the walk from the southeast corner of the Library.

It shall be a specific violation of these traffic rules to park a motor vehicle in any of the traffic ways of the campus, in the driveway or turn-around at the Student Union building or at the east door of the Administration building, or in the driveway west of the gymnasium (except at the extreme north end thereof), or in the driveway or turn-around at Horace Mann School, including the space in the Horace Mann driveway just to the west of the curbing which is the western boundary of the Horace Mann parking area.

Registration of cars will start in the fall. The other rules and regulations will go into effect as rapidly as possible.

Campus Extra

Things are really poppin' in all y olde college campuses. For all the dope, don't give up, just keep reading.

To start out with a gay note, Buddy Morrow's orchestra played for the "Blue World," the annual J. Hop at Michigan State Normal. Switching to a different side of the social world, the Missouri Valley Vikings, Marshall, defeated Culver Stockton 88-81 to win the MC AU basketball crown.

The Western States, Moorhead, Minnesota, states that the Alpha Epsilon frat won the trophy presented to the winners of a Songfest. One of the acts on the program was a jazz band, "Joe Penana and His Band of Appeal." Sounds pretty slick, doesn't it?

Tarkio College celebrated its Founders' Day with Senator Estes Kefauver as the principal speaker. Did any interested Democrats (or Republicans) attend?

Woody Herman seems to be making a tour of Missouri as he is playing for yearbook dances at Warrensburg and Kirksville, and for the spring formal at Cape Girardeau. Suggestions on how to bring him to NWMSU will be appreciated!

The men at Park College, Parkville, received their athletic award jackets and as characteristic of that honor, they are very proud of them.

Here's a most interesting note that was in the State College Leader, Hays, Kansas. They now have a pterodactyl in their college museum. This isn't a character from Gargantua or a Mickey Spillane book but a flying reptile of the Cretaceous geological period. Just old stuff!

Note to the Humanities classes: The film "Don Quixote" will be shown in the Library Lecture Room at Fairmont State, West Virginia. Tests on "Don Quixote" are over, but anyone still interested?

Dr. Dildine Presents Two Recent Writers For High Mediatory Service

In his EMPEROR AND THE GALILEAN Hendrik Ibsen has Julian saying to Maximus, "Yes, this Jesus Christ is the greatest rebel that ever lived." Rebel? That is not what Pontius Pilate, another long famous Roman judge, said. A brief personal interview left this Roman declaring, "I find no fault in him." Thus do judgments often reveal the judge more than they do the man before the bar. Present day scholars are well aware that while we are learning about our real world as humans meet it there are many expressions of opinion about Jesus, varying from each other as widely and as sharply as did those held by ancient rulers.

Jesus of all the great spirits of the classical age has won widest approval for the sanity and deep understanding of his advice relating to the difficulties of individual and social well being. The problems which he faced were local in setting and detail but perennial in their significance for man in any environment and in any era.

We could use scholars who can be at once the friend to man and contemporary spirit to both the 1950's and the 30 A. D.'s. They could help us bridge the gap of the years and relieve the blindness of our pride over being such great superior moderns.

Editorial limitations are imperative. Only two recent writers are presented for the examination of their work and for recognition for places in this high mediatory service. Edgar Johnson Goodspeed, master of Greek and of English, gives us the atmosphere of contemporary thinking in the 225 pages of his volume entitled A LIFE OF JESUS. Harry Emerson Fosdick only four years ago published the results of his analysis of the responses made by several groups of contemporaries of Jesus under the title THE MAN FROM NAZARETH.

Chapter by chapter Dr. Fosdick deals with the issues arising from distinct group pre-judgments. There are the admiring associates hoping for an impossible future; great crowds fascinated by the well-to-do stories and almost insane in an enthusiasm for sharing a supposed source for loaves and fishes without labor; scribes and Pharisees, legalists, coldly interpreting and mercilessly enforcing an impossible code; the Sadducees, rulers of the temple; and nationalists, fattening on the bounties of appointments from the Romans; publicans and other oppressed groups, victims of prejudice and hungry for being understood and sharing in some genuine friendship.

Dr. Goodspeed in his satisfying narrative and Dr. Fosdick in his provocative analysis inspire the feelings of reality and freshness as the volumes are read.—Harry G. Dildine.

The Stroller

"What's in a name?" someone once asked. Now the Stroller doesn't know the answer to that question; but he has conducted a private poll of the most popular names on the campus. And the A's have it—those A's that stand for Adams, that is. Eight students sign their cheeks with that name, prefacing it with John (Glen, John Paul, Monte, Ruth, Verla Louise, Lynn, Helen, or Angenette).

Jones is the second most common name on the campus with seven students answering to it. These include Teddy, Wilma, Dawanna, Donna, Josephine, Juanita, and Mae.

As for the Smiths, there are only four,—Robert, Dixie, Don, and Dannie.

Ah, ha! Gerald Sprang has become a blond. And he blames it on swimming, plus peroxide, of course.

Another landmark has vanished from the campus. One of the large trees southeast of the men's Quadrangle bit the dust a couple of weeks ago.

Tops in cheery greetings on the campus surely must be the smile and the "Hello" of Sara Overton.

Another sign of spring the Stroller has noticed is the discussion of available teaching positions that always comes up when two or more seniors get together. Some have already signed for the next year; others are still weighing advantages against disadvantages.

So Walt Hopkins has been playing taxi-driver on Fridays. Anything to help a friend get to Kansas City for the weekend. And Norma Duffy has only good things to say about his driving.

Garold Walker certainly came through with a bang-up performance of the bunny-hop at the junior-senior prom. What happened to the usual bunch of devotees of the dance? Surely they haven't forgotten since the Tower Dance.

A note to those planning to teach: Carolyn Butt writes only glowing accounts of her new duties in the high school at West Union, Iowa. She loves every minute of it.

The Stroller wants to add a word of praise for the cast, stage crew, director, and everyone else concerned for making the production of "Harvey" such an enjoyable assembly.

Residents of College Heights Establish Self-Government Plan

The residents of College Heights have organized and elected a mayor and four councilmen.

James Kay was elected mayor and the councilmen are Max Miller, Don McKown, Joe Walker, and Dick Baker.

The main purpose of organizing this area is to promote the general welfare of the residents of College Heights. Other ideals they have set up are to help the College maintain and make the Heights more attractive and to present a planned program of recreation for the residents.

The organization also gives the students living in the area an opportunity to participate in a model city government, thereby realizing the problems and importance of an acting city government.

The following apartments are being occupied by persons connected with the college: 1, James Kay, 2, George Berrett, 3, Grant Whitney, 4, Joe Walker, 5, Morris Randall, 6, Amie Meadows, 8, Donald Morrison, 12, Donald McKown, 13, Carter Botkin, 14, Raymond Lorraine, 15, Irwin Hallman, 16, Jack Turner, 17, Howard Wollen, 18, Robert Carey, 19, Joseph Dob-bins, 20, Bob Dillon.

Dr. John Harr, chairman of the social science department, headed the campus drive for the Nodaway County Red Cross during the week of March 16-20.

He began his campaign by issuing notes to faculty members and to organization presidents, urging them to make contributions and to receive membership in the American Red Cross.

The students at Horace Mann responded by conducting a hall campaign during the week.

The plea was answered in a slightly different way by a member of a College speech class. This student gave a speech about the Red Cross and then took up a collection.

The amount of money contributed by faculty members, College students, and Horace Mann students totaled more than $125.

Because of the flood disaster in this area last year more money was used locally.

Money is now needed for expansion of the blood program.

Phi Sig Review

By PETE AND RE-PETE

FLASH! Old Phi Sig business executive donates $30,000 to Nu chapter at Maryville. Phi Sigs plan to build a huge fraternity house on the edge of the campus. This structure will house ninety of the Phi Sigs; the other thirty-five members and all the pledges will have to live at the quads. Looks as if the Phi Sigs will have a big deal next year. Oh! Just received another letter today from the old Phi Sig. He says, "April Fool!"

Mr. W. T. Garrett, one of our sponsors, has been ill. He has been confined to the St. Francis Hospital. We are glad to report that he is on his way to recovery.

A new slate of officers took over last week. We think these fellows are going to do a fine job. President Al Spies appointed Jack Burks as the new sergeant-at-arms. Someone said "We didn't have one last year. To this Bayless added, "We won't have one next year either." It was good of Al Boltz to volunteer to help Leonard Gercken with the Orchid Ball. No foolin' Al, that's the spirit we like to see.

This Billy Baber is quite the investigator. Last week he was asking pretty co-eds for measurements. Hum-in. You sure there's nothing false about some of your findings, Bill? We would certainly like to recommend Kenny Holmes as an excellent shoe shine boy—right Harry.

We wonder if Mel Twaddle's wife knows he's such a fine housekeeper. He surely does a fine job on our chapter room. One can certainly see how to get to the Phi Sig chapter room now, since our new pledge, Bob Roberts, put up the big sign in the entrance. Good job, Bob.

What's this we hear about the battery going dead on Jerry White's car after the Junior-Senior Prom—surely was cold, wasn't it, Carol? It has been rumored around the Phi Sig house that Whitey is probably the only cross-country runner in a blue serge suit.

Bob Douglas goes to St. Joseph quite frequently anymore. He says he is getting his teeth worked on—we wonder? Another journeyer is Brother Casey Cox. The wandering lover roamed over the foot-hills of Northwest Missouri last Saturday and ended up in Fairfax. Who lives in Fairfax, Casey?

Seen together quite often around the campus are Dick Merkle and Louise Novinger; John Barrett and Marica Woodcock; Eldon Coburn and Vernell Williams; Al Spies and Turbie Toboy; Harold Dinsmore and Marilyn Gilliland.

From our observation it seems that the draft should leave the Phi Sigs alone because they are lovers, not fighters. Say, here come Fred Hannah and Bonnie Henderson; chemistry class must be over.

What kind of corporation is this that Zane Dodge, Eldon Coburn, and Dick Severson have formed? They claim they are workers. Just what do you fellows call odd jobs?

Joe McClure, in his big black Chevy, gave Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson a ride to Kansas City last week—Chas. says his wife hasn't been the same since.

One of our brothers, Al Boltz, is getting married April first and that's no joke. Several Phi Sigs are going to St. Joseph for the wedding. Congratulations, Al!

We got a letter from former Phi Sig Dean Knodle who has been touring the Southland with the United States army as special army instructor. He tells us that he had the pleasure to stand honor guard for President Eisenhower. Bill Baker and Lyle Martin, two former Phi Sigs who are now serving their country in the armed force, visited on the campus last week.

Mick Ayres, who is practicing teaching at Horace Mann, arranged with a teacher in Holland to have their pupils exchange letters as foreign pen pals. One lad in Mick's class, upon arriving home, yelled to his mother, "Hey, Mom, I got a girl in Dutch!"

The Frolics rehearsals seem more like the Golden Gloves tournament than a rehearsal. To speak of a few of the casualties: we have had hair matted up, ribs broken, and one sponsor sent to the hospital. The two top drawing cards seem to be Neil "the Giant Killer" and "Mighty Mouse" White. When things settle down to a steady roar and the practicing begins, the melodious voices of Max Miller and Ernie Connell gaily ring throughout the hall.

Don't forget the PHI SIG FROLICS coming in April. The musical score is being led by Al Spies, and Oakie Adams is directing the dialogue. It looks as if it will be a great show. Be sure to get out and vote at the Senate election today. STAN OGDEN for president and MAXINE DESHON for vice-president seem like a smart choice.

Horace Mann Seniors Will Present Comedy

"What A Life," a comedy by Clifford Goldsmith, has been selected as the class play by the seniors of Horace Mann High School. The play will be presented in the College auditorium, April 30.

Miss Dorothy Weigand is directing the production, assisted by Jack Turner, student teacher.

The typical program for the devotionals includes a scripture reading, songs, a story or period of meditation, and a closing prayer. The service is always based on some theme.

Arranging for this exhibit is the committee composed of Evelyn Hillman, chairman, Jackie Donaldson, and Gerry Struck.

Correction

In the last issue of the Northwest Missourian, the colony of Tau Kappa Epsilon was incorrectly referred to as a fraternity. The group is a colony and will remain such until further action is taken, perhaps by the beginning of the second semester of the school year of 1953-54. The staff of the Northwest Missourian regrets this error.

Random Shots

By LEE AND LEO

We should like to congratulate the Bearcat track team on the splendid showing they made at the Indoor meet held at Missouri University.

George Coulter took first place in both the low and high hurdles. Hubert Sharp ranked first in the high jump, leaping to victory with a height of 6 feet 2 inches.

Jack Spence helped the Bearcats by taking third place in the 60 yard dash, while Rick Tilton pushed his way into fourth place in the 440 yard dash. The fact that many of the other participants did not place showed many possibilities for the future. With a little added work and practice, all of these lads may once again make the College proud of its "Fighting Bearcats."

Since we shall have a number of men in the 1956 Olympics, let's look at a few who are here at State.

Flash! After tuning in on all short wave lengths we have found that the most dreaded weapon that the United States has for the 1956 Olympics is the left handed "hook" shot of "Sarge" G. F. Coulter.

All records for the 100 meter dash are in grave danger of being erased from the books, as Stan Ogden plans to shatter them easily.

A heavyweight contender for the boxing championship of the world, who has been diligently working out with his pet bear, is "Rocky" Buckridge. He seems to be having quite a problem getting large enough shirts for his bulging muscles. It is rumored.

Paul "Goose Tatum" Tobin, one of the all time greats on the hard woods, has been absent from practice because of trips to Kansas City. We think the frequent trips to the big city are so that Paul can work out in the Municipal Auditorium and become accustomed to the floor on which he will play during the Olympic games.

Hubert Sharp has practiced and practiced to get on the wrestling team. Hubert, who is better known in the sports world as "Bruiser," has been unbeaten in 1,001 matches.

Other participants from this fair campus who will represent the United States in the 1956 Olympic games are as follows: "Moose" Dillon, aerialist; Carl Leffingwell, tidally winks; Howard Davenport, equestrian; Eddie Hightree, shot put; Harry Yungshlager, decathlon; "Pop" Hemmeyer, drop-the-banky; Ernie Hutchings, steal the bacon; Don Black, croquet; George "Toothless" Haws, apple bobbing; Tom Carver, hair grooming contest; Tony Kubicka, weight lifting; Darrell "Willie" Williamson, fond stabbing; Don Palmer, figure skating; George Kling, ballet; Jack Spence, marathon; Ono Monachino, pole vault; Gil Obregon, team dancing, probably with Barbara.

All of the above fine athletes have been trained by Frank Pebley; so we want to give credit where credit's due.

April Fool—Hi, Ken.

Dean Stuck's Relatives Play in Iowa Tourney

Dean Stuck, a member of the Bearcats' gridiron contingent last fall, comes from a family of athletes. Dean, whose home is at Mount Ayr, Iowa, has three relatives playing in the Iowa State cage tournaments this year.

A brother, Rex, and a cousin, Doyle, were members of the Mount Ayr boys' basketball team which played in the state meet at Iowa City. Dean was on hand for this Hawkeye cage classic, cheering for the Mount Ayr crew.

Another cousin, Virginia Stuck, was a member of the Grand River sextet who made their inaugural trip to the girls' finals at Des Moines this season.

Larry Belt Is Champion

Larry Belt became the ping pong champion of the campus by defeating George Nathan in the finals of the recent intramural tourney. Both contestants are members of the All-States club.

Bill Gloschen of the Red Labels gained third place in the playoffs. T. R. Cowan of the Sparkies was fourth.

Mr. R. P. Foster, registrar, went to Jefferson City, March 18, and transacted business with certificating officials of the State Department of Education.

Former Coach Is Honored
Henry "Hank" Iba, a former coach of the College, was recently named coach of the year in the Missouri Valley Conference. Iba's basketball teams at Oklahoma A. and M. have consistently been outstanding, particularly in the control-type of cage play.

Music Department Supplies Judges For DeKalb Event

Mr. John S. Smay and Mr. Gilbert Whitney, members of the faculty of the music department of the College, were judges at the DeKalb County Music Festival, March 17, at Maysville.

Mr. Smay judged the instrumental events and Mr. Whitney the vocal selections.

This annual event is conducted for the purpose of giving students a chance to gain and receive criticism before entering the district contests.

"Problems of Teaching" Is Discussion Topic

Mr. H. R. Dieterich was in charge of the seminar for student teachers of Horace Mann High School, March 10.

Scheduled as "Group Discussion of Problems in Teaching," the session began with an enumeration of problems that a teacher finds in carrying out his duties.

Using the reports of the teachers as a basis, Mr. Dieterich added some of the problems the teachers had listed as being in existence. Among these topics were the prevalence of "I-Don't-Care" attitudes on the part of students, the importance of extracurricular activities in the school program, and the presentation of materials as a challenge to the student.

Improvements Are Scheduled
If the weather will cooperate, the campus of Northwest Missouri State College will soon have several improvements. President J. W. Jones stated that as soon as the weather dries out the ground, the parking lots are going to be oiled, the walks to and from the Union are going to be improved, and a new walk from the Library to the Union will be built.

Former Editor Writes
Reva Jo Gordon, former editor of the Northwest Missourian, writes that her husband, Roland Gordon, is business manager at Platte College, and that they are both teaching classes at night school.

One of the subjects is Speed Writing, a miracle shorthand specially adapted for college students.

Their son, Gary Paul, has eyes "as blue as the sky," and "is just about the happiest small boy you ever saw."

Vacation Begins
Easter vacation for the College will begin tomorrow at 4:00 p. m. Classes will resume Tuesday, April 7, at 8:00 a. m.

10 Years Ago
It is interesting to note the events ten years ago in the lives of several of the faculty members.

Dean J. W. Jones gave a hearty "Top O' the Mornin'" to the students while sporting a real Irish shamrock given him by the Sisters of St. Benedict at Clyde.

Miss Virginia Ann Mutz became the bride of Ensign Robert Foster (now Registrar Foster) on Friday, March 26, 1943.

Harold V. Neece took over duties as the new Director of Personnel. Ten years ago the College had a station wagon for the convenience of students. Not a bad idea for '53, either!

The Tower yearbook was near the time to go to press.

The Horace Mann typing class had charge of "The Mirror," the high school paper.

News for the April 1 edition of the Northwest Missourian ten years ago had several upside-down paragraphs—blame went to the all-feminine staff!
